THE ENDLESS JOURNEY.

When our feet become heavy and weary On the valleys and mountains of life. And the road has grown dusty and dreary, And we groan in the struggle and strife, We halt on the difficult pathway, Glance back over valley and plain, And sigh with a sorrowful longing To travel the journey again.

For we know in the past there are pleasures, And seasons of joy and delight, While before all is doubting and darkness, And dread of the groom and the night; All bright sunny spots we remember-How little we thought of them then?

But now we are looking and longing To rest in those places again. But vain of the vainest is sighing, Our course must be forward and on : We cannot turn back on the journey,

We cannot enjoy what is gone. Let us hope, then, as onward we travel, That oases may brighten the plain, That our road be beside the sweet waters, Though we may not begin it again.

For existence forever goes upward-From the hill to the mountain we rise, On, on, o'er invisible summits, To a land in the limitless skies, Strive on, then, with courage unshaken-True labor is never in vain-Nor glance with regret at the pathway No mortal can travel again.

Wanted-A wife who can handle a broom, To brush down the cobwebs and sweep up the room; To make decent bread, that a fellow can eat-Not the horrible compound you everywhere meet; Who knows how to broil, to fry and to roast-Make a cup of good tea and a platter of toast; And makes her own garments-an item which is So horrid expensive as every one knows; A common senso creature, and still with a mind To teach and to guide-exalted, refined, A sort of an angel and housemaid combined.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Desperation is sometimes a sinister inspirer of inferiority.

Never judge a man by his clothes—his tailor may have a suit against him. A young girl may be sure a man loves her unutterably when he sits in her presence for an hour without speaking.

In a Western mine there is this advice-"Do not fall down this shaft, as there are men at work at the bottom of it."

He who wilfully prevaricates, or culminates his neighbor is beneath the dignity of manhood and a contemptible nuisance in every community. An individual who called his first daughter Kate, when his wife presented him with another girl, promptly christened her Dupli-

" Is the howling of a dog always followed by a death?" asked a little girl of her father. " Not always, my dear ; because gometimes the man that shoots misses him," was the reply.

Æsthetic wife (sobbing)-" Dearest, I'll see that your grave is kept green-but not one of those horrid bright greens. A nice olive gray green, with an old bronze tombstone, will look too awfully lovely for anything."

A person with an interrogative mind asks the editor of a sporting paper, " How many eards are there in a pack?" That depends, we have heard, upon the number the other player has up his sleeve. You can't always sometimes, generally tell how many cards there are in a pack .-

" Have you no love for the beautiful, then?" quietly said she in winsome tones. " N-n-o, but | ROBT. LEWERS. I think I should have, if I only dared." " Have courage, young man." "Oh, I wasn't thinking of you at all. I-" But she bustled out of the room, lating berself for having sprung the trap too soon.

A Boston theologist thinks that twenty-five minutes is time enough for the best preachers to Sugar Factors and Commission Agents, say their sermons, and wants the time cut down one-half for the peorer ones. That's all very pretty, but where's the man who will risk his life by selecting the poorer ones?-

As Zululand is still wholly uncivilized, the chances are that the king will get his property back. A man, say the New Orleans Times-Democrat was carrying a coon he had caught, when he met three little boys in the road. All of them said, excitedly and at once: "Mister, give me that coon; give me that coon, mister." "Well, boys I'll tell you what I will do. If you will tell me the party you belong to, and why, I'll give it to the boy who gives the best reason for his faith." "I'm a Republican, because that party saved the Union," said one. "I'm a Greenbacker, because that party is in favor of plenty of money." When the time of the third boy came, he said: "I'm a Democrat, 'cause I want
